Alternate Dispute Resolutions (ADR) Lawyer in Delhi (India)

The Indian Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 is the governing arbitration statute in India. It is based on the Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration adopted by the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL) in 1985. Previous statutory provisions on arbitration were contained in three different enactments, namely, the Arbitration Act, 1940, the Arbitration (Protocol and Convention) Act, 1937, and the Foreign Awards (Recognition and Enforcement) Act, 1961. The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, of 1996 repealed the Arbitration Act, of 1940 and also the Acts of 1937 and 1961.

ADR involves the following kind of services:

Bankruptcy & Insolvency Lawyer in Delhi

Insolvency and Bankruptcy, a unified code came into force in 2016. The Insolvency and bankruptcy law is a form of social legislation encompassing all companies, partnerships, and individuals. It aims to providing relief to all of them. It undertakes to maximize the value of the assets of the debtors and also tries to balance the interest of all the shareholders. The Code guarantees to achieve far-reaching reforms with a push on creditor-driven insolvency resolution. It aims at prior identification of financial failure and increasing the asset value of insolvent firms/companies.

Insolvency refers to a state in which a person does not have sufficient property for repaying his debts. An 'insolvent' person ceases to pay his debts in the ordinary course of business.

Bankruptcy is said to be the last resort when financial issues are spilled out of control. It is a statutory procedure caused by insolvency through which a person is relieved of most of its debts and undergoes judiciary supervision or liquidator for the benefit of that person's creditor.

The Central Government has constituted National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) under section 408 of the Companies Act, 2013 (18 of 2013) w.e.f. 01.06.2016. In the first phase the Ministry of Corporate Affairs has set up eleven Benches, one Principal Bench in New Delhi and one each Regional Benches in New Delhi, Allahabad, Bengaluru, Chandigarh, Chennai, Hyderabad, Kolkata, and Mumbai. Primarily we practice in New Delhi, but we used to appear before NCLT across the country. Company law practice is our core area of practice. Our NCLT team of corporate lawyers is much experienced and well equipped and updated under the guidance of Mr. Singh who is one of the "best corporate lawyers in Delhi India".

Besides the same, we also serve our numerous clients on their multifarious projects in the following manner or the following ways under various laws:

- i. Practice before NCLT & NCAT.
- ii. Incorporation of Companies/LLP in India and abroad.
